

K-2 Crew Cadre

Join a vibrant community of K-2 teachers sharing real-world solutions for math, literacy, purposeful play, and whole-child growth—because teaching tiny humans is no small task.

This cadre's approach to professional development will be designed to support teachers of primary learners specifically. We will meet several times throughout the year to provide content and engagement within a wide range of topics for a comprehensive cadre structure. Topics will span across math, reading, writing, and behavior. Guest presenters from various departments of Greenbush will provide content each session related to their specific passions and expertise to ensure participants walk away with up-to-date guidance and best practices to take back to their primary classrooms. As with most Greenbush cadres, the attendees will require the support of the district with a nomination from an administrator, and educators will be expected to attend all scheduled sessions.

Participation in this special cadre is free to School Improvement Services (SIS) consortium districts*. We require a nomination from administration to ensure the right educators are selected, commitment and support for attendance is prioritized, and expectations are established to share cadre learning with others in your district.

*A reduced member rate is assessed for SIS Virtual districts

Topics may include, but are not limited to:

- Foundational reading & writing skill development
- Beginning math concepts and number sense
- Behavioral considerations
- Preparing for learning—the student, the teacher, the classroom
- Purposeful play/centers
- Special Education
- ICEL Framework
